The Jewett case, which occurred in this city a couple of years ago, in which a retiring partner, dissatisfied with the division of the business, seems to have dashed a grenade on the floor of the counting-room, and to have dissolved the partnership by involving himself and partners in a common destruction, will be remembered, as ranking among the remarkable cases, if it was really a case of intended suicide; but the utmost examination of which the case admitted left room to think it may have been an accident. Even Burleigh's project of advertising his suicide is not altogether novel, for the books narrate that once, in London, a man advertised extensively that he would, upon a cer-tain day, put himself to death in Covent Garden, for the benefit of his wife and family; tickets of admission, a guinea

LASHED TO A ROCKET STICK. A similar courting of publicity is observable in a London case, which occurred in the reign of George III. As that King was one day passing in his carriage through the park to St. James' Palace, a man dressed in black, standing close to the rails, watched till the royal carriage came opposite him, then pulled a paper from his pocket addressed to the King, which he stuck upon the rails, and then drew a pistol and shot himself dead. Though the place was crowded with people, they were watching the King, and no one observed the unfortunate means movements in girls, by exchanging confidential accounts of what they each witnessed in the families in which they served, be-came so disheartened with life that ed into the water, and were drowned. THE CANVASS IN ORANGE. Turner's Work of Disorganization--Reprehensible Character of His Speeches -- Radicals Bolstering Him Up. Correspondence of the News.

HILLSBORO, July 29. The campaign in Orange, which closes to-morrow, acquires interest from the danger which threatens long maintained Democratic ascendancy by the infidelity of the man who once assumed to be the leader of the party, not only in the county, but in the State.
And the danger is more iminent than is pleasant to admit. It had been thought impossible for Josiah Turner to survive the self inflicted injury of two years ago. When after declining the tender of a nomination to the Senate, he indignantly came out as an active opponent of Maj. John W. Graham, and allying himself unreservedly with the Radicals, and disgraceing himself by a campaign in Caswell in company with a negro chairman of the Republican Executive Committe of Orange, and under that alliance causing the defeat of the Democratic candidates for the House in Caswell, he was signally defeated, and apparently consigned to oblivion.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION PLAN.

He is not the man to feel shame or dmit defeat; and for more than a year past he has been busy shaping men and circumstances to another attempt on popular favor. His primary election scheme, by which he ex-pected to use advantageously both the Republican and Democratic votes, was one of his measures most confidently relied on at first. That was a trick soon run through, but though apparently abandoned, it was never lost sight of; for when he mounts a hobby, he never dismounts, even after it A. W. Tourgee or Sam W. Watts.

TRYING TO PACK THE CONVENTION.

visited; there was scarcely a house he had not entered; there was scarcely a man to whom he had not made personal appeal; and many, yielding to his tale of poverty, of injustice, of persecution, and forgetful of his past history, gave in their adhesion to him; and the campaign opened with a degree of disaffection to the party, of opposition to the nominations, and of favor to Turner that seemed incredible from his past record, and the excellent character of the nominations, and the perfect harmony that attended them.

OUR CANDIDATES. The nominations for the House were Mr. A. Angier, of Ducham, and John R. Hutchins, of Chapel Hill, the former a merchant and farmer, a man of, and from the people; a man of amiable tem-per and of business habits, beloved, re-spected and trusted; the other a farmer of education, without spot or blemish, and of culture and talent to do credit to the respected and important interest he represents. And they were the men for whom the people impatiently asked in preference to lawyers and professional peliticians. For the Senate, A. W. Graham was nominated after an animated contest with two other gentlemen, and it has happened fortunately for the full illustration of Mr. Graham's capacities, that the burden of the campaign has fallen upon him. Mr. Hutchins, though a good speaker, is suffering with chill the unfortunate man's movements in season to stop him. Investigation that cause for long effort; and Mr. showed he was a James Sutherland, Angier, from his habits of life can be who had been Judge Advocate at no match for the long trained vitupera-Minorca, but had been removed under tion of Josiah Turner; and Mr. Gracircumstances which distressed him so much as to derange his mind. TURNER'S UNFAIRNESS.

came so disheartened with life that they agreed to leave it in company, sewed their clothing together so that neither one should fail in purpose, leap-only give an idea of its character. By Turner it is pushed with his usual aggressive, overbearing, abusive, and unfair weapons; reckless in assertion, fruitful in denial, stale in facts, devoid of nevelty, venomous in vituperation of all that Democrats hold venerable or respectable, silent in regard to the op-position, insidious in his appeal to base passions, wickedly suggestive of class hostilities, advocating nothing useful or harmony of society.

NEGROES. In the attainment of his aims he is backed up by a very considerable num-ber of respectable Democrats who are deluded into sympathy with his alleged misfortunes and ill treatment, and by a large class of whites whose attachment to party is shaken as well by personal regard for Turner as by the pressure of hard times for which they have been taught to believe the Democratic party is no more able to prove a remedy than the Republican; and these constitute a force the Democrats cannot afford to lose when taken in connection with the very active zeal of the Republicans leaders and followers manifest for Turner. His dependence, all the while has been on the support of that party. The white leaders lent a very willing ear, but the negroes had not forgotten the deception of the last campaign through which Josiah Turner defendant against the plaintiff and an injunction pendente lite can not be sustained. The remedy is by a motion in the original cause. A motion to correct alleged errors in the judgment when made in the original cause, is too had passed as the then recognized leader, but who had very openly deceived and insulted them at the last hour of the election by proclaiming aloud his vote as he deposited the Democratic tickets in their respective boxes; and they would have been bard to manage if one of those irregular incidents which baffle new trial. all calculation had not taken place.

RADICAL CANDIDATES COME OUT.

H. B. Guthrie, an old and notorious Radical, and Lewis Jenkins, a prominent colored man, and the traveling companion of Turner in the Caswell campaign of 1876, seeing the white strength in the Democratic ranks divided, seized hold of the opportunity of success, and declared themselves candidates for the House. Quick as lightning, Turner adroitly turned it to his use. He charged that these too men had been bought by the Democrats to take away the Radical vote from him. The story was greedily swallowed. Both Guthrie and Jenkins are unpopular with their own party, and odious with the other; and it is doubtful if they, the only really Radical ticket in the field, will get two hundred votes in the county. But for the moment, the threatening danger shook even Turner's audacity, and desperate remedies were needed to meet it.

REPUBLICANS TO THE RESCUE. The white Radical leaders were as much exercised as Turner, for his victory is theirs; and his overthrow is their ruin; and so Henry N. Brown, formerly Radical candidate for the Senate, came to the rescue with the expectation that he could control the negro vote for Turner. More than this. Al. Haughawaut, a negro, and once a very offensive member of the League, came out in a card in an appeal to the negroes, denouncing Jenkins, and urg-ing the negroes to support Turner. Alfred Holmes, another negro, also once a notorious and offensive leader of the League, took the stump for Turner. going to several of the appointments and making passionate appeals for the support of Turner by the colored people. So the strange spectacle is presented of a man who will still call himself a Democrat, placing his hopes of election, not alone on white Democratic friends, but upon white Republicans leaders, and upon the earnest oratory of negro speakers. And to-day the negro vote is secured almost solidly for Turner, and will be given for him with as much enthusiasm as it ever was for

The Candidates in Catawba.

(harlotte Observer. A gentleman who has heard one of the joint discussions among the candidates in Catawba, reports to us that for richness it surpasses the most masterly performances of a trick mule in a circus. One of the independent candidates for the Legis'ature urges the people to disregard the action of the convention which "annominated" his opponent, and promises that if elected he will have a railroad built from Tampa Bay to Buzzard Bay via Newton, Conever and Catfish. When one of the candidates for a minor office charged another candidate for the same office with perjury, the accused warned him that he was bordering upon personalities. The can-didates tell very exceedingly smutty jokes and apply them to each other like pick pockets, as a means of getting the people to listen to them, and altogether it is a rare and lively scramble all around.

First Importation of Grain. The late Isaac Friedlander, who died

If these engagements had been strictly personal, it has been estimated that it would have required a capital, in late years, of $40,000,000 to carry on his operations. He was in most cases, however, only a broker on a large scale. and finally failed in 1876 by losing $3,-000.000 by the partial failure of crop and by the Russo-Turkish war. His failure and death have probably broken up permanently the possibility of any one man again controlling the im-mense grain interests of California He was a giant physically, being nearly seven feet in height, and with a body larger in proportion. What Can be Done.

One of the wealthiest and most successful farmers of New Hanover county was a day laborer fifteen years ago. For his services he received one dollar per day and had a large family to support, but by economy and temperate habits he managed to lay up a little of his small salary to commence life on his own account. He purchased a small tract of land near this city and by hard work and close attention to his farm soon took rank, among most prominet truckers of the county. Little by little has he added to his stock and farm, and to-day he has over one hundred acres of as rich land as is in the State, a greater number of horses, cows, and goats, of better breed than those of many farmers in the couaty. Those who know say that the farm of Thomas H. Monk is life, two others were remanded for a one of the best equipped and appointed in the county, and yet when he charged with waylaying and murdercharged with waylaying and murder-ing another negro in cold blood, and had been sentenced by the District Court to in this section. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation and the lands are being improved by the judicious use of compost heaps, &c.— Wil Review.

Congressional Convention.

A Convention of the Democrats and Conservatives of the Fourth District, will be held in the city of Raleigh, on Thursday the 22nd day of August next, for the purpose of pominating a candidate for Congress. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty, given for Goy. Vance in 1876. By order of District Ex. Committee, H. A. LONDON, Jr.

A vote for Independent candidates is a vote to remand the State back to Radicalism.

The effect of the Senatorial bolt of 1872 is seen in the crop of Independent candidates, which, like nexious weeds, cumbers the ground.

Through Independent disorganization of the Democratic party, the Radical party of 1870 may again return into power and pelf in North Carolina.

It is already said that the opponent of Governor Vance will have a majority of the Legislature, and that he will not, therefore, go into the Democratic cau-

Independents may be moved in some instances by good intentions, but such intentions will become the paving stones on which to again wheel the car of Radicalism.

In the county they have done their duty, and Democrats of the city are reminded that only to-day remains for them to complete the list of registra-

Having combatted the position he has taken on the Senatorial question, and successfully met him at every point, the News, while dealing with him in plain terms. has sought to pluck no laurel from his brow. It has presented him in just as favorable a light as if he had never antagonized it. Still he is not happy.

The remaining Congressional Conventions in this State occur, for the first district, at Edenton, the eighth of day; in this, the fourth, on the twentysecond and the fifth has not yet been named. When these nominations have all been made the Congressional campaign will have fully opened, and the Democratic policy touching National crat to support and stand by the party By Telegraph to the News. politics will be under full review and nominee. fluancial matters as its most active projectors could desire; and it would be well for these Conventions to put out some solid platforms covering the ground whereon the Nationals hope to build in this State. There is and can be no difference of opinion between the Democracy of the South and West and the Nationals. The ground they occupy must be the same, and there is for both parties but one common enemy-the Republican party, whose legislation, bought with the gold of the bondholders and money monopolists, has ruised the country and brought the people to what they are at. With the country people all at their respective polls, and the election in town absorbing all other interests, the merchants are not likely to have a very busy day. The opportunity will therefore be given them and their young men to go out and work for the interest of the Democratic ticket. They need not necessarily close their places of business. but none should fail to exert themselves from the rising to the setting of the sun. The country people complain that the townfolk do not work as hard as they, or the Radicals would never be successful. Show them that they are mistaken, for the city has done its duty before, but let it do it doubly now, and the success will pass to its credit. Every Democrat to the polls.

A Virginia correspondent of the Norfolk Virginian, writes thus of the Dismal Swamp Canal, a work in which Northeastern North Carolina feels a lively interest:-"I am in favor of all sorts of appropriations, to all sorts of capals, in large amounts, and as often as possible. But with me the "Old Dismal" is a specia!ty. It was appropriated by the United States so long during the war that Uncle Samuel has about made up his mind to appropriate four hundred thousand dollars to it the next session of Congress. Our present Representative has been indefatigible in assisting Uncle Samuel to this generous conclusion. If I know myself, I am for returning to the next Congress from this District John Good.

To-Morrow

The work of to-morrow will decide the fate of the State and largely influence the political destiny of the na-

This August election of ours is no unimportant affair. It fires the signal campaign gun of the "off year." It opens the preliminary battle to the grand campaign of 1880, a contest the result of which will be more significant to this republic, than any battle of the Revolution.

To-morrow's vote in North Carolin: will bear directly on the congressional campaigns in every State of the Union. If the Democracy here is found solid and victorious it will stimulate and encourage the Democracy everywhere. and correspondingly depress the Republican enemy. But if dissensions and divisions shall have obtained among us, and the election returns show a practical defeat, the effect upon the Democracy of other States will be in adverse ratio. For the State ticket there is no de gree of danger and no solicitude felt. The judiciary having no opposition, there has been no contest for it, and nothing worthy the name of campaign. Eight of the mine districts will elect the solicitors neminated by the Democratic party. Our candidates for these positions have all made admirable and vigprous campaigns, and to them has mainly fallen the duty of preserving the party unity. Aside from the work of these gentlemen there has been no general campaign to awaken enthusiasm in the ranks of the Democratic voters. In this dearth of stagarnt politics because of the lifelessness of opposition, the district candidates and the press have done what they could to maintain party organization. Their work has been faithful, tomorrow's results must show with what effect. It is in the county contests that the danger of disintegration has been apprehended. There the Radicals have been neither dead nor asleep. Abandoning the general campaign they resorted to guerilla tactics, and they have industriously bushwhacked from every county stump. They have, in this sort of warfare, appeared in places where before they had no organization. tion. Let there be no default about this Throwing off the old worn Radical uniform, they come in the disguise of Independents and the new livery of Nationa s. Only in those counties where they feel their majority assured do they present the Radical colors or candidates bitherto identified with the Norfolk Landmark is outspoken in its Radical party. Their managers and manipulators have wrought upon the discontented and induced dissatisfied Democrats to run in opposition to the party candidate. In some other counties, Democrats, secure from the Radicals in any event, have offered in opposition to the party nominee, feeling that Democracy could suffer no defeat. whoever triumphed. All Independents are not Radicals, and all Independent candidates are not running under Radical inspiration and encouragement. But to the Radical managers themselves it is all the same. Anybody to beat the Democratic nominee, for such is a Democratic defeat. It demoralizes and disintegrates, and the Republicans hope to turn our defection of this year profitably to their own account two years hence. The Democratic party of North Carolina must not be defeated this year. Party organization must be maintained at all hazards. Democratic success means the success of Democratic nomi-

The Last Day.

This last day of the campaign finds the public mind pretty well made up. It is doubtful if to-day's work changes as many votes as there will be speeches

The last opportunity for work, therefore, is to-morrow. Whatever is now done must be done at the polls. There is much important work to be done there. Not that men must intimidate or prevent voters their free expression of choice. To see that they have that choice, and vote understandingly, is precisely the work in hand.

In North Carolina men are, under Democratic auspices, allowed to vote as they please, and are protected in that right. It was only under the regime of Radicalism that intimidation was learned in this State, and now, wherever, they dare show their hands, Radicals still practice the intimidation of voters. They do not permit the colored men to vote the Democratic ticket if they can prevent it. It is the business of good, lawabiding, freedom-loving men, as the Democrats of this State are, to see that the colored people vote for whom they choose, whether Democrat or Radical, and if Democrat, he does so under the fullest guarantee of protecti en.

Work at the polls does not necessarily mean corrupt or violent work. It never had a suspicion of such significance here before the era of Radicalism, and now that the State is a Democratic State, governed by Democratic rules, and its elections operating by Democratic machinery, work at the polls must mean good, honest Democratic work. The people are to be got to the polls. The aged, infirm and lame must be assisted to get there, for they have, if possibe, a greater interest in good government than their strong and more fertunate neighbors. Once on the ground they must be provided with tickets. All cannot read, and many read but indifferently. Not only are there Radical tickets to be scrutinized, but there are spurious tickets to be imposed on the people. It will be necessary for every Democratic voter to know from whom he receives his ticket. for the Ridicals are trying to surreptitiously run in an Independent Judge by having the name of William M. Cocke in the place of James C. L. Gudger in the Ninth District.

Be on gaurd against Radical tricks of every device. Not alone on the State ticket but in the county elections they will have false tickets at the polls. Be sure that your ballot is the regular Democratic ticket, and then vote it.

The Ishmaelite of Orange.

Mr. Josiah Turner is an incorrigible foe and an unforgiving enemy. His hand against every man and every nan's hand against him, he is the most striking illustration of the political Ishmaelite ever presented. From beng the most violent and implacable foe of Radicalism, he now pours out the vials of his wrath and indignation upon the Democratic party. No prominent Democrat of the State has escaped his denunciation. He denounces, right and left, everybody and everything. The Radicals take their portion in good part, laughing at it as but the reproduction of the "old editorial." They are practical in politics, whatever else may be said of them, and make fish of all that come into their net. Mr. Turner is the recognized Radical candidate for the House, in Orange, and will receive the vote of that party. He claims for himself that he is an Independent, but the Radicals say "he is our man, and we must support him, for, like Nichols and Gorman, of old Turner is with us." Surely, no Democrat in Orange can vote for a man of such associations, political surroundings and following as the Josiah Turner of to-day. It is the most melancholy instance of fallen greatness and lost popularity on record. It is worse than any known case of open political debauchery. And no humane man can fail to sympathize for him in his condition. His conduct and attitude toward all men forbid sympathy with him. From a sense of self-respect, and appreciating what was due its own manhood, the News determined not to fight Mr. Turner in this campaign. His record and conduct it showed up two years ago, and it was thought-time to let him alone. As an Independent, merely, it had no right to single him out from others, and he was deemed altogether too small game in a flock of bigger and unwounded duck. Some have contented themselves with striking at Mr. Turner and going no

The News has preferred to apply its oruning hook to the upper branches of. the Independent tree, perched somewhere among the branches of which is a young and lusty crowing Senatorial cock. The Orange county jury of the public will to-morrow decide the case of Mr. Turner. Should he be found hereafter on the "jury of the legislature," of which there is no real danger, the News might feel constrained to deal with him as a rejuvenated gladiator, restored to the arena. But until then give him a rest.

The ballot boxes for Thursday's elec. tion are prepared, and the last of them will to day be sent to the various townships. The boxes are all plainly designated so that no mistakes can be made by voters in depositing tickets. Blank election returns have also been Narrow Escape.

A day or two since, as Engineer Swan was running the passenger train on the North Carolina Railway, into Goldsboro, he saw two negroes lying fast asleep across the track, just in the centre of the Neuse river bridge. The whistle screamed several times, but the sleeping negroes did not wake. The train rushed on at highest speed, 20 miles an hour, but when he saw that the sleepers would not awake, the engineer put on the air brakes and stopped the train within six feet of them.

Bishop Lyman,

Some months since the Rt. Rev. T. B. Lyman, Assistant Bishop of North Carolina, left the city to attend a meeting of the Pan Anglican Council at London. We find in the Herald the following: In London, on the 14th of his opinion and impressions as to the July, the Assistant Episcopal Bishop of North Carolina, preached in St. Paui's Bledsoe, and showed him up as a dema-

Rampant --- Bledsoe Blows.

The court house was filled with a throng of dusky faces, with here and there a white one, last evening. The occasion was a Republican rally. The first peaker was Maj. Bledsoe, who in his remarks said that great efforts were bond of $50. being made to defeat him and the Republicans. He told the negroes to rally to their t cket; that he expected Republican support, and would aid those who aided him. He desired them, as a band of brothers, to run the government for their own benefit. The entire address was decidedly communistic, and the audience seemed thoroughly sympathetic.

A. Magnin followed, speaking with populiar pleasure of his having interfered with a public speaking near the city. He assailed Messrs. Snow and McDonald, and anathematized a section of the Radicals as renegades. He said Maj. Bledsoe and himself had borne the bruit of the fight. The court room was filled by the noisy crowd, who made every demonstration of applause. Music by a brass band added to the noises.

ordered and cause continued, Caroline A. Manning vs L B Manning, from Halifax; argued for the plaintiff by S. Whitaker, and for the defendant by T. N. Hill, Day & Hall and Walter Clark. Court adjourned until this Wendesday morning at 9 o'clock.

The New Post Office-- The First Floor Completed,

After years of labor the first floor of the new post-office building is at last finished. The floors, both oaken and wooden were carefully washed yesterday, while the pillars received the finishing touches of paint. This floor of the building will to-morrow be turned over to the custodian. The chandeliers have not been put in, nor has the furniture arrived. But the floor is ready for use. The public are invited to visit the builds ing to-morrow, and see the quality of the work as well as its extent.

Would not some sort of celebration of the completion of this portion of one of the finest public buildings in the ham Atlanta, Ga., is held for lack of South, be appropriate. The immense room can be used and doubtless its use would be permitted by the authorities. It seems proper to take some notice of this completion. The suggestion would be quickly adopted anywhere else.

Professor Baker, late of England, will conduct a well trained orehestra, and the music will be of the very best. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to a laudable purpose, it is an exhibition of local talent, and long deprived of any theatrical amusement, it is hoped that the citizens of Raleigh will respond with unstinted patronage. Posters and small bills will announce the day and programme of performance. Mr. C. H Lewellen is the manager.

Fish Culture in North Caroiina.

Mr. S. G. Worth, the energetic gentleman in charge of the trout hatchery at Swannanoa Gap, reports to the Department of Agriculture that the progress made is particularly satisfactory. The ponds for the reception of trout already contain 2,000 trout. These will be used in propagation.

The importance and magnitude of the great work of restocking the streams with food-fishes cannot be overestimated, and the work done by the State in this direction has come fully up to all hopes of success. The parties in charge of the stations are gentlemen of marked ability and energy, and their labors last season will in a year or two show their fruit. The importance of a careful beginning of the propagation of fish and he sure results of proper measures for their future increase will, if not so visible to the people now, soon be established beyond question.

The Canvass.

The candidates appeared yesterday at the Township House, Panther Branch Township, and spoke to an audience about 500 in number. There were no disorders, the crowd being commenda-bly quiet. The candidates for the House led, and were followed by those for the county offices. The discussion was closed by the candidates for the Senate. To-day the speaking is at Franklin's, in Swift Creek Township, or in common parlance, Rhamkatte. This closes the canvass in the county. The candid tes for county offices will first speak, at the conclusion of their remarks a number of hem will go to a barbecue at Leesville. This evening the voters of the city will be addressed at Metropolitan Hall.

road. The withdrawalby Weddin & Bailey of their coaches and teams from the Western North Carolina Railroad, at Henry, will result in no inconvenience to the traveling public, as an entirely new outfit of coaches, carriages and hacks, with splendid horses, was placed on the line between Henry and Asheville, by Brown and Verble, before the above mentioned withdrawal of Weddin & Bailey.

The new line offers every facility for the accompodation and convenience of the public. Families can still have convevances to themselves when desired. Railroad companies and others who have been selling tickets to Asheville and Warm Springs with coupons attached for stage line from head of Western North Carolina Railroad, will continue to do so, as such coupons will be recognized and received for fare over Milestones on the Road, Health. The recovery of digestin and the resumption of activity by the liver, bowels and kidneys are milestones which mark our progress of the road to health. They specific gress of the road to health. They speedily become perceptible when Hostetier's Stomach Bitters is used by the invaid. Nothing so surely and expeditiously consumes the distance to the defred goal. As no bodily function can suffer it terruption without impairing the general health of the system, so the system can never acquire perfect vigor health's synonym, until that function be actively resumed. Take, for instance, digestion, a suspension of which is invariably rectified by the Bitters. If the organs upon which it devolves grow weak, billiousness, constiption, headache, poverty of the blood and a hundred other symptoms supervene, which indicate unmistakably the baneful general influence of dyspepsia. The disappearance of all these symptoms through the use of the Bitters shows with what thorme sit removes their cause.
